PATRONIZE ADVERTISERS

in

Hendricks Commercial Register

They are the live concerns that know they can meet your requirements---else they wouldn't spend money to tell you so.

And they know that intelligent advertising means quicker turnover, resulting in prompter delivery and lower ratio of overhead. That means ability to quote right.

TO USE THIS BOOK EFFICIENTLY

Read This Page NOW—and Save Your Time When You Are BUSIER

Address and Local Distributors Section—

Beginning on page 7, gives the names and addresses of manufacturing and other concerns, with branch offices and local distributors of many advertisers.

Index to Classifications of Products—

Beginning on page 351, shows all items of Material, Supplies, Equipment, Machines, etc., indexed and cross indexed in the terms that come first to your mind. Thus "Dredging Buckets" are shown as "Buckets, Dredging," and as "Dredging Buckets." It is preferable, however, always to look for the NOUN.

Classified Products Section—

Beginning on page 501, lists under the name of the product the names of the manufacturers of this product. That those shown in black-faced type are especially equipped to quote is evidenced by their readiness to spend money to secure your inquiries—it will pay you to write them.

All Products are listed alphabetically according to the noun, excepting in the case of "Machinery" and "Textile Machinery," which for your convenience are brought together into two main groups, the former embracing classifications 7671 to 9499 and the latter embracing classifications 14993 to 15489; here the various kinds of machines and machinery are subclassified, each with its own classification number.

Sometimes a general classification, such as "Lumber," appears. Subclassifications appear immediately following the general list, however.

Various trades are listed, also, such as Architects and Contractors. In the larger lists the arrangement is geographical, for your more ready convenience. In the smaller lists the arrangement is alphabetical as to firm names.

Classification numbers, corresponding with the numbers in the Index to Classifications of Products, are shown above the outer column of each page.

If you refer directly to the Classified Products Section, look for the NOUN, thus, "Wardrobes, Office," not "Office Wardrobes."

Tradename Section—

Beginning on page 2301, carries the trade-names of all articles in industrial use put out within the past twenty-five years. We have thousands of additional trade-names on file, however. If you know a trade-name but not the name of the manufacturer, use the Trade-name Section.

And Remember—

We have a Complete Service Department ready to give you any further information or assistance you may desire.

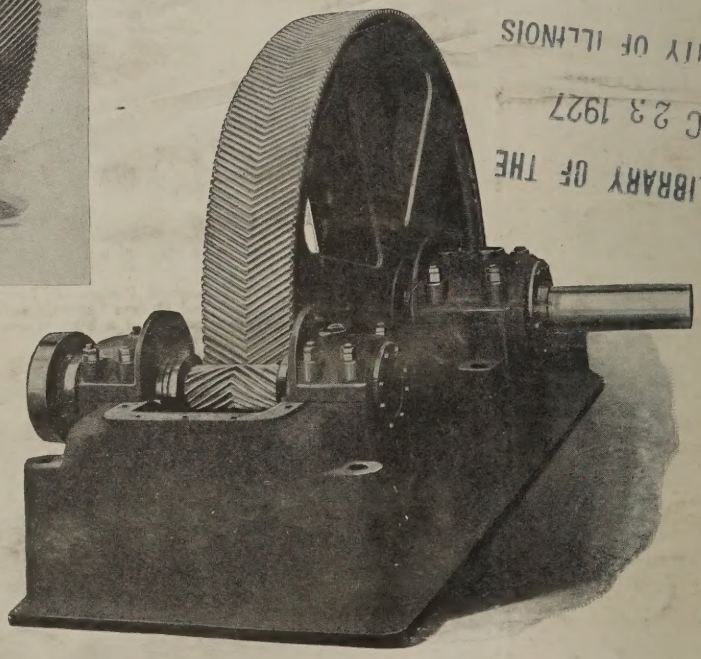
NO GAP AT THE CENTER

MADE IN ALL SIZES

Sykes Double Helical Gears

With Generated Continuous Teeth and Sharp Apices



Maximum Efficiency

The gears so generated give better results not only at normal velocities, but at much higher velocities. Elimination of the gap increases the load-carrying capacity of the gear from 15% to 25%, saves space and makes possible the application of machine cut double helical gears where they were found impractical before.

Accuracy

With this process, moreover, it is possible to generate teeth of great precision both as regards profile, accuracy of division and helix angle. The gears, as a result, run really silently and without vibration even at the highest speeds.
